

LAGO UPDATE

We had an excited customer at our threshold yesterday. He may have found the internet, but the one and only Bill Kurtis is mighty miffed that he can't find a way into Club Lago just yet...

People, people, people. Club Lago is getting ready to reopen! We're working hard to be ready for the throngs of hungry, thirsty Lagosians about to rush our new door.

While Bill Kurtis continues to scream for Club Lago spaghetti, keep an eye out for more information on our grand re-opening this September.

LONG LIVE LAGO!
